GAME #12
BETHEL UNIVERSITY (6-5/2-4 MIAC) at
CONCORDIA COLLEGE (5-6/4-2 MIAC)

January 12, 2008
Memorial Auditorium
Moorhead, Minn.

GAME TIME: 3 p.m.
SERIES: Bethel leads 40-19
SERIES STARTED: 1977

LAST YEAR: Last year Bethel swept the season series. The Royals won 95-71 in Arden Hills and then completed the sweep with an 86-71 win in Moorhead. In the first game, the Cobbers were done in by an 18-shot free throw difference and lost by 12. CC was 11-of-12 from the free throw line but that paled in comparison to the Royals' 28-of-30 shooting spree from the foul line. The 12-point discrepancy was the major statistical advantage as the two teams played a virtually even game from start to finish. Luke Linz led the Cobbers with 26 points. He was matched by Bethel's Tim Madson who had a game-high 29 points. The Royals also had four of their starting five players score at least 10 points. The Cobbers shot 49.2% (32-of-65) from the field as compared to only 47.0% (31-of-66) for Bethel. CC went 8-of-18 (44.4%) from 3-point range which was better than the Royals' 20.8% (5-of-24) from long range. Bethel held a 35-34 advantage in rebounding and turned the ball over nine times to the Cobbers' 16. In the second game, Concordia could never overcome a 13-point halftime deficit and ended up losing by 15. The game was determined from behind the arc where the Cobbers connected on just one of their 14 attempts from long range (7.1%). Bethel went 6-of-15 (40.0%) from 3-point range to give the Royals 15 more points off of long-range shots. Linz once again led the Cobbers in scoring. He posted a game-high 26 points to go along with a team-high seven rebounds. Bethel had four players score at least 12 points and was led by Madson who went 7-of-7 from the free throw line and finished with 20 points.

SERIES SYNOPSIS: Bethel has beaten the Cobbers six straight times. The last time Concordia pulled off a win over the Royals was back on Jan. 15, 2005 when they eked out an 83-82 victory at home. That was the second of back-to-back wins for CC over BU. Bethel has also won 11 of the last 13 games against the Cobbers. The last time Concordia swept the Royals in a season series was back in 1996-97...the Cobbers are 8-8 against Bethel in the last 16 games played in Memorial Auditorium...the teams played three times in 2004-05 with BU winning 79-77 in OT in the MIAC playoffs.

To paraphrase the words of Chico Escuela, “2008 been berry berry good to me!” The Cobbers remain unbeaten in the new calendar year and have won four straight MIAC games dating back to Dec. 3 when they beat St. Olaf. The four-game conference winning streak is the longest since they reeled off six straight at the start of the 2003-04 season. The recent success has jumped CC all the way up into a tie for second place in the league standings. Concordia now has five wins on the season which is more than they had in all of last season.

YOU CAN NOT HANDLE PRESSURE
In their win over Gustavus, Concordia forced the Gusties into 25 turnovers. It was the most turnovers forced by CC this year and the highest total since they forced 28 against MSU M on Dec. 1, 2003. For Gustavus it was the most miscues they have had in a single game since Dec. 21, 2003. The Cobbers are second in the MIAC in causing turnovers (17.0/game) in league games this season. They are also second in steals per game (8.33).

LINZ WATCH
Cobber senior Luke Linz was named to the D3hoops.com team of the week on Wednesday. In his last three games he is averaging 25.3 points per game. Linz has scored in double figures in all six of the Cobbers’ MIAC games this season. He has scored at least 10 points in 26 consecutive conference games - a streak that dates back to Jan. 18, 2006 when he injured his foot against Hamline. He has now scored 1,089 points in his career and is sixth on the school's all-time scoring chart. Next up is Jim Bjorklund who scored 1,098 points from 1971-74.

UP NEXT
The make-or-break five-game stretch to start 2008 comes to an end when Concordia plays at league-leading St. Thomas on Wednesday, Jan. 16, at 7:30 p.m. The Cobbers will then return home to face Augsburg on Saturday, Jan. 19 at 7:30 p.m. CC will round out the first half of the MIAC schedule by playing at St. Mary’s on Sunday, Jan. 20 at 3 p.m.

Webster's Dictionary defines the word “enigma” as something hard to understand or explain. The Gameday Staff thinks that word would be pretty descriptive of Bethel’s season so far. The Royals were the clear-cut favorite to win the MIAC this season on the preseason coaches’ poll. BU garnered 10 of the 11 first-place votes available. The reason for the optimism is that they returned four starters from last year’s team that went 13-7 in the MIAC. However, things haven’t turned out the way they had planned to start the year. Bethel lost four of their first five MIAC games and is now playing the catch-up game.

1-2 PUNCH
Bethel has the best inside-outside tandem in the MIAC this season. “Mr. Inside” Mike Moberg and “Mr. Outside” Tim Madson are currently averaging 36.5 points per game and either one of the two has led the team in scoring in 10 of the team’s 11 games this year. Both players are returning All-MIAC performers.

IT MUST BE THE WATER
Madson, Bethel’s leading scorer this season (23.0 ppg), hails from Redwood Falls, Minn. He is the second straight team leader Concordia has faced that is from Redwood Falls. Gustavus’ leading scorer Trevor Wittwer is also from the small town just 110 miles west of the Twin Cities (pop. 5,200). Madson has scored at least 24 points on seven occasions this year and had a season-high 33 points vs. Crown College.

THIS DATE IN SIVERSON HISTORY
January 12
In honor of head coach Duane Siverson’s final season, the Gameday Staff will use this portion of the program to highlight some of the things that happened on this day in the history of Siverson coaching either the men’s or women’s teams.

1991 – Concordia women hold Macalester to 39 points in a 75-39 win.
2002 – Concordia holds St. Mary’s to 49 points in a 69-49 win at home.
2000 – Jeff Ubben has a game-high 23 points in CC’s 70-67 at St. Olaf.

2007-08 Bethel Preview (Courtesy of the Bethel SID)

The 2007 – 2008 version of Bethel Royals basketball features four returners with significant varsity playing experience and a large group of underclassmen and new players. Senior Jeff Reck and juniors Cory Laugen, Tim Madson, and Mike Moberg form the core group of leaders who give confidence, discipline, and toughness to our effort to combine their experience and skills with a talented group of newcomers.

Madson and Moberg both were All-MIAC a year ago, started every game in 2006-2007; and lead Bethel’s up-tempo attack with inside and outside scoring abilities. At 19.5 points per game, Madson was second in the MIAC in scoring while shooting 47% from the field, 40% from the 3-point line and 86% from the free throw line. Moberg shot 54% from the field while averaging 14.8 ppg. and 7.8 rpg. Laugen returns at the lead guard spot for a third year on the varsity. His 9.7 ppg. and 28 minutes per game while shooting 81% from the free throw line and starting all 26 games last season gives indication that he is tested and understands how to lead a team. Reck brings good court presence and experience and the ability to score on the inside and the outside. He shot 85% from the free throw line and 48% from the 3-point line in 2006-2007. This group of four gives the Royals a solid foundation in which the newcomers can learn the program's system and gain playing confidence.

The newcomers at the lead guard spot include sophomores Shane Flannery and Tyler Brown, along with freshman Eric Hugoson. Each brings tremendous athletic ability with good basketball sense and arrives at Bethel from solid high school programs. On the perimeter, junior transfer Nick Otterson, junior Evan Boldt, sophomore Rob Lang, and sophomore transfer Mike Much give our team a variety of scoring skills, great athletic ability, and tremendous competitiveness.

Joining Reck and Moberg in stabilizing the Royals’ front court will be sophomore Jon Altena, freshmen Matt Johnson and JJ Palmer, and junior Luke Widstrom. Each guy offers skills to play both power forward and post positions. All are good athletes with good physical toughness.

The race of the 2007-2008 team will be one marked by the ability of the Royals to learn to play with calm, confidence, and discipline. The confidence of the Royals will have at its foundation great defensive intensity, effort and toughness. We want to reduce the opponent’s field goal percentage, limit their ability to move the basketball and control the boards. Offensively, Bethel will push the basketball to put pressure on the defense looking for good shots off of transition. In the half court, good decision-making and execution in a disciplined inside-outside game will be combined with good ball movement, dribble penetration and good shot selection to give the Royals good offensive diversity of attack.
